

Data collected through conference calls arranged by Fladgate

Most conference calls are not recorded. If however a call is recorded, this will be stated on the call by the Fladgate call chairperson.

What we collect	Source	Purpose	Legal basis	Recipients
Conference or videoconference call recordings	Audio and visual recordings of what individuals said on a multiparty conference call	Fladgate's conference call provider	A record of the call to establish any instructions or points of agreement of the views/decisions of the parties to the call Our legitimate interests in performing our instructions. The legitimate interest of our client in us performing its instructions.	Our client Other parties involved in the call